

SUMMARY

I.G. Shakurov

The problem of integration Russia into the global financial market

The main topic of the article is integration into the global financial market. Experience of many countries proves that for Russia the main task of financial system in the 21th century would be a rational balance of liberalization with state and professional financial control.

V.S. Bratshev

On the way to a palace plot: the “problem of masson plot” on the eve of revolution in 1917

The article is devoted to the character of interpretation of sources on the history of political masonry in Russia in the context of the problem of so called masonneries complot before the revolution of February 1917.

The author is subscribed the discussional character of the questions of membership in masonry generals M.V. Alexiev and N.V. Ruzskoy. The fact of their participation in complot with common center of masonry (A.F. Kerenskiy) as suppose the author is evident.

B.A. Starkov

February break 1917

February revolution was the spontaneous event that initiated radical turn in the fortunes of nations of Russia. The origin of dual power determined the specificity of Russian political process in conditions of ruin of Imperial State system and continued World War. Processes of destruction of Russian State machinery confirmed inability of Russian bourgeoisie to find the way out of general political crisis. In this sense February of 1917 in reality became the prologue of October of 1917.

B.A. Ermolov

Reform of Soviet village and problems of kolkhoz constraction during prewar five-year plan

The following is the analyses of problematic situations in the period of the communal economy formation in a village in the pre-war years (1928-1941). Different sources are used to show kolchozs formation in a village and local authorities influence on peasants.

Social adaptation and the problem of identity in the globalizing world

The article is devoted to some ways of social modernization to correspond the modern global trend. The object to consider is peculiarities of modern world connected with cultural plurality and changes in modus of personal identification in society. The author reflects on the actor's social adaptation in new conditions, defines bases for identification and gives its classification. The necessity of attention to identity transformation as a means of social transformation is highlighted.

V.A. Zolotuhin

The idea of rational in modern social philosophy

The latest ten years showed an outburst in mind, intellect, experimental physiology and philosophy research. Philosophy of mind is one of the most dynamically developing fields of modern thought. Once again the traditional questions of "how the mind works" and correspondence between mental and physical are actual. The classics of theoretical sociology do not regard intellect as the centre of their conceptual schemes, thought they recognize it to be the product of social relations and thus to have social origin.

The author states that collective intellect is natural phenomenon. It develops simultaneously with individual intellect. Though, the character of development of those two intellects are principally different, it follows that to keep the civilization safe, collective intellect needs careful organization in the scope of the whole planet.

I.O. Eleferenko

Synergy of empathy

Empathy implies a complete penetration into the world of another person. This is typical for interaction of people who are in so-called social professions. This can be compared to confidentiality of confession, medical confidentiality, implying great responsibility.

Theoretically the question of relation between an empathor and an empathee is possible through synergy. Synergy theory is believed to have some components making one entity. So moral principals is one of synergy components.

L.A. Kupets

East and West: the history of culture in the writing legacy of Cloud Debussie

This is devoted to writing legacy of the French musician, who created the basic concepts of the XX century world musical picture. In his works Cloud Debus-sie concentrates on two focuses: the Antiques period and the East. He naturally turns to already familiar to a European year East, such as “Spanish” and “Hungarian-Gypsy” sounding and also to Indo-Buddhism tradition.

V.N. Malinin

What happens to the World Ocean level?

The article summarizes the results of the World Ocean level assessment for the last 140 years. It follows that during the 20th century the World Ocean trend reached 1,8 m.m.per year. The author considers the contribution of different factors into this phenomenon in the 20th of the World Ocean level assessment for the last 140 years. It follows that during the 20th century. The forecast for the nearest years is an increase of World Ocean level up to 3.5 m.m. per year.

*D.A. Subetto
V.L. Pogodina*

The role of geographic education in forming noospheric society

To form a noospheric society is impossible without noospheric education. The whole essence of geographic science calls out for integration of the Science and the Humanities. The mission of geographic education is to provide social ecological harmony of the world. Humanitarian geography is able to foresee the nearest and the farthest consequences of social decisions. Systematic geographic knowledge provide cultural background, form competence which will enable the new generation find and understand their place in the world.